Dear Friends, Supporters, and Stakeholders,

As we reflect on the journey of FFCP-Muskaan over the past year, we are filled with immense pride and gratitude for the strides we have made in our mission to fight child sexual abuse (CSA) and support survivors. The year 2023-24 has indeed been a turning point in our organization's trajectory, marked by significant growth and impactful initiatives. One of the most remarkable achievements this year has been the expansion of our team from a modest 7 members to a dedicated cohort of 25 individuals. This expansion has not only bolstered our organizational capacity but has also allowed us to increase our reach. By reaching more audiences and engaging with diverse schools, police stations and hospitals, we are strengthening our efforts to prevent CSA and create safer environments for children.

We are thrilled to announce the initiation of three new projects in collaboration with renowned funders, each designed to address specific needs CSA survivors. Project Hausla, Project Koshish, and Project Jaago represent our unwavering commitment to Counselling, rehabilitation, restoration, and prevention. These projects embody our proactive approach towards tackling the complex issue of CSA and creating sustainable change in our children.

As a part of our efforts to increase accessibility and awareness, we have also developed the Muskaan Film on CSA/POCSO, a resource designed to educate the general public and encourage survivors to seek assistance. This film stands as a testament to our dedication to leveraging innovative approaches to reach those in need, empowering them to take action against sexual abuse.

In the pages that follow, you'll get a glimpse of our work through stories to help realize a brighter future for children.

In conclusion, we extend our heartfelt gratitude to our team, partners, funders, and supporters for their unwavering dedication and collaboration. Together, we have achieved significant milestones and laid the foundation for continued progress in our mission to create CSA-free society where every child feels safe, supported, and empowered.

SURVIVOR & FAMILY SUPPORT: CASE WORK INTERVENTION BY OUR TRAINED SOCIAL WORKERS

Kanchan's * Life taking a Positive U turn

Kanchan is the only child to her parents who belong to a middle-class family. They have been living in Pune as her father employed in Pune. Her mother is a home maker.

Kanchan's plight started when Covid-19 affected the whole world. She also went with her mother to their paternal village in UP due to the lockdown. Her paternal uncle raped her multiple times. When her paternal grandfather got to know about the incident, he also forced her to have sexual relations with him at their farm, but she somehow managed to escape.

Kanchan's mother narrated the incident to her father and he took them back to Pune. Once Kanchan came back to Pune, she penned her agony in a letter to her father. Shockingly, her father too took advantage of this situation and sexually abused her. After joining junior college, Kanchan once shared her story with one of her friends who helped her register a complaint at the police station against her father, uncle and grandfather under the POCSO Act.

FFCP-Muskaan has taken up her case legally. A social worker of FFCP-Muskaan has also been appointed as support person in her case by CWC. Now Kanchan is an adult pursuing her graduation in Computer Science and living alone away from her family in disguise due to safety reasons. FFCP-Muskaan has provided her with assistance for all her basic needs under rehabilitation. This year, she was a part of her college NCC team and performed on Republic Day. She has achieved an SGPA of 8.27 out of 10 in her 1st year exams.

Kanchan dreams of completing her masters, securing a job and eventually bringing her mother to live with her.

BUILDING FAMILY RESILIENCY-SUPPORT FOR COMPLETE SURVIVORSHIP

A long-term rehabilitation program has been one of the new initiatives of FFCP-Muskaan in FY 2023-24. EMPOWERING SNEHA* THROUGH HEALING & HOPE

Sneha, a young girl with hearing impairment, was subjected to sexual abuse that profoundly affected her physical and emotional well-being. Her health deteriorated, and she required extended medical attention due to the traumatic incident she had endured.

After the initial conversation with Sneha, the social worker assessed her needs as follows:

- Ensure Sneha's health and safety.
- Assist Sneha in recording the 161 statement to aid the legal proceedings against her abuser.
- Offer the necessary support to help Sneha cope with the trauma.
- Engage and involve Sneha's mother in the recovery process.
- Explore opportunities to receive financial assistance under Manodhairya for Sneha's future well-being.

Use of storytelling method to record the child's 161 (FIR at Police station) & 164 (Statement in the court) statements: The social worker played a pivotal role in ensuring Sneha's comfort and cooperation during the FIR & court proceedings. Recognizing Sneha's hearing impairment, the social worker employed creative methods, such as storytelling, to help Sneha record her statement. Sneha was encouraged to use sign language during the process to ensure the police accurately recorded her statement.

The traumatic incident experienced by Sneha had deeply impacted her. Regular interactions, counselling, and physical assistance were offered by the social worker to navigate the abuse & facilitate her healing journey.

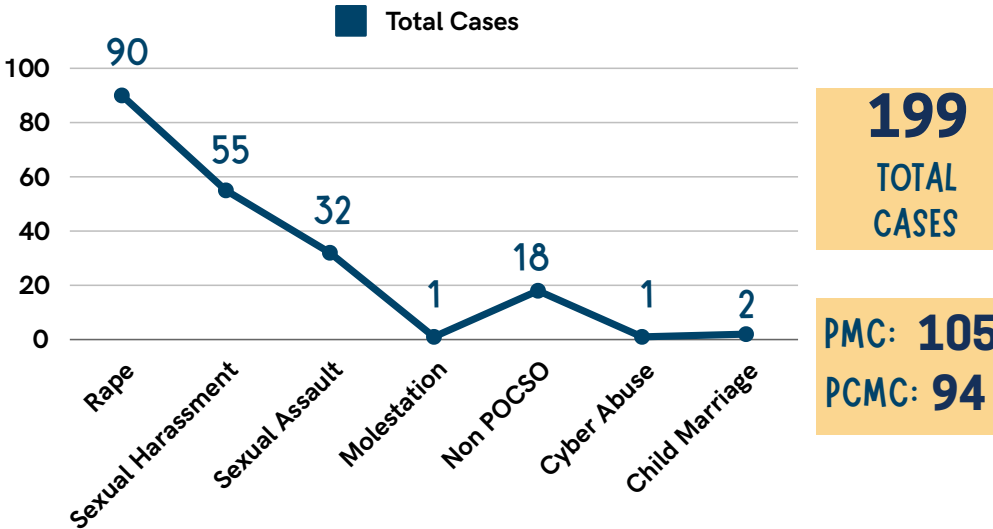

Recognizing the importance of family support, the social worker actively involved Sneha's mother in the recovery process. Sneha's mother played a crucial role in creating a nurturing and supportive environment for her daughter during her recovery.

As part of Sneha's journey to recovery and empowerment, the social worker initiated plans to assist her in receiving financial support under the "Manodhairya" scheme. This step was vital in securing Sneha's financial independence.

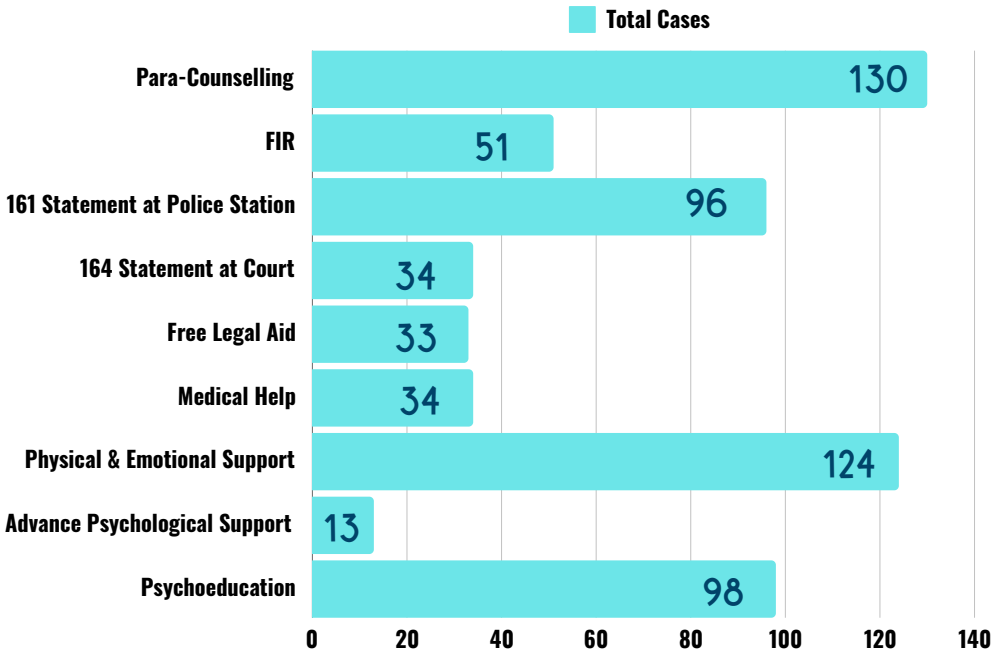

Today, Sneha is back at home, her health has significantly improved, with her emotional state on the path to recovery. The social worker maintains regular contact with Sneha and her mother, offering a safety net and assistance whenever necessary.

PROJECT KOSHISH : RESTORING THE LOST CHILDHOOD OF CSA SURVIVORS

PROMISING CHAPTER IN SUNITA'S* LIFE

Sunita found a safe space to express her thoughts & emotions in FFCP-Muskaan's counselling sessions at the Child Care Institution and gradually achieved a state of relaxation.

She has also enrolled for Diploma in Medical Laboratory Technology (DMLT) from Tech Mahindra under our long-term rehabilitation program. Furthermore, Sunita is benefitting from free legal aid extended by our team.

By immersing herself in a busy schedule of professional training, Sunita has found a way to distance herself from the darkest phase of her life. This not only serves as a coping mechanism but also motivates her to strive for an improved quality of life. The unwavering support of her mother and the intervention by FFCP-Muskaan have collectively paved the way for a new and promising chapter in Sunita's life.

NOURISHING DREAMS FOR A HEALTHIER START

Reena* exuded confidence as she recounted her experience to the trainer. She spoke of how she had helped her friend, who lives in the CCI and attends school, grasp the processes of rain and rainbow formation. Her self-esteem soared with this achievement, especially since she wasn't in a school setting herself.

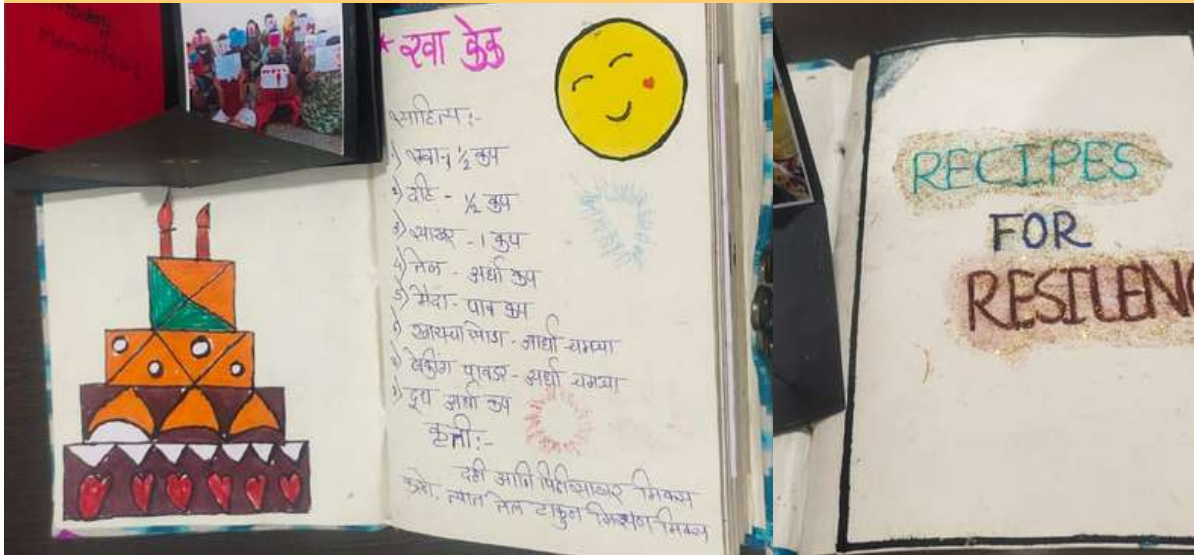

The caretaker, amazed by Reena's clear and proficient explanation, asked her where she had gained such knowledge. With a sense of pride, Reena shared that she had learned it through FFCP-Muskaan's Life Skills Education (LSE) sessions, designed specifically to meet their unique needs. These sessions not only provided valuable knowledge but also equipped them with essential life skills for the future.

COOKING UP STRENGTH: RECIPES FOR RESILIENCE FOR CSA SURVIVORS

Recipes for Resilience is one of our therapeutic activities designed for CSA survivors at CCIs. This initiative helped them express their feelings and release their pain simultaneously. In one of these sessions, our team conducted a bakery workshop where the girls were encouraged to share their memories and emotions with each item they baked. The experience was cathartic for all of them. This session felt like a rainbow platform, guiding them through a spectrum of feelings and memories from their childhood involving friends and family. As an immediate outcome, we observed a sense of relaxation and happiness among the girls. Some of them now dream of starting their own bakery shops once they move forward in life.

COUNSELLING INTERVENTIONS: JOURNEY FROM TRAUMA TO TRIUMPH

This year has marked an enriching episode for our CSA survivors as we added an in-house Psychotherapist to our existing multi-disciplinary team. Implementation of professional counselling has played a pivotal role in our ongoing efforts to support survivors of Child Sexual Abuse (CSA).

Recognizing the significance of a comprehensive survivorship approach, we have started home-visit-based counselling and active involvement of parents or immediate caregivers in the counselling process, aiming to expedite the healing journey.

FREEDOM FROM GUILT AND SELF BLAME

Chinu* finds herself engulfed in a storm of emotions, torn between anger, guilt, and shame, as the perpetrator of her distress is none other than her own father. Her family is grappling with financial crises, intensifying the internal conflict for Chinu, who questions the consequences of her decision to report her father given his role as the sole breadwinner. All these challenges drove Chinu to engage in self-harming behaviors and suicidal thoughts.

The counsellor delved into Chinu's unconscious thoughts through projective testing. Instead of directly addressing family issues, Chinu drew a picture of a small girl, a possible representation of her inner self or a symbolic way of expressing vulnerability.

Understanding the urgent need to address Chinu's self-harming tendencies and suicidal thoughts, the counselor guided her to practice positive self-talk aiming to redirect her thought process away from self-destructive tendencies. In addition, the counselor encouraged her to narrate the experience from a third-person perspective, that helped her to facilitate a sense of detachment and explored the incident without overwhelming guilt and self-blame. Chinu is relaxed and has started engaging herself in the various activities and is able to perform her daily activities independently.

PROJECT JAAGO : CREATING A CADRE OF PARA LEGAL VOLUNTEERS AND PARA COUNSELLORS IN THE COMMUNITY

Project Jaago, an initiative by the Foundation for Child Protection - Muskaan (FFCP-Muskaan) in collaboration with the Eaton India Foundation, has been instrumental in addressing the issue of Child Sexual Abuse (CSA) in Pune's communities, specifically Suryaprakash Nagar & Mahatma Gandhi Nagar (PMC) and Vetal Vasti (PCMC). The project, has helped us in creating a cadre of 20 para-legal volunteers and para-counsellors, who are successfully engaged in the community to create awareness on CSA. They have identified more than 12 cases and multiple disclosures and successfully referred it to our case workers to take appropriate actions. As this pilot project nears its completion in March 2024, the focus is now on extending its impact and ensuring sustainability.

A powerful shift in mindset and gender dynamics within the community.

The collective empowerment of women in the community is evident after their participation in the project activities. The realization that what happened to them should not happen to their children has spurred them to gather courage and collectively fight against CSA.

A PATH OF HEALING AND REHABILITATION....

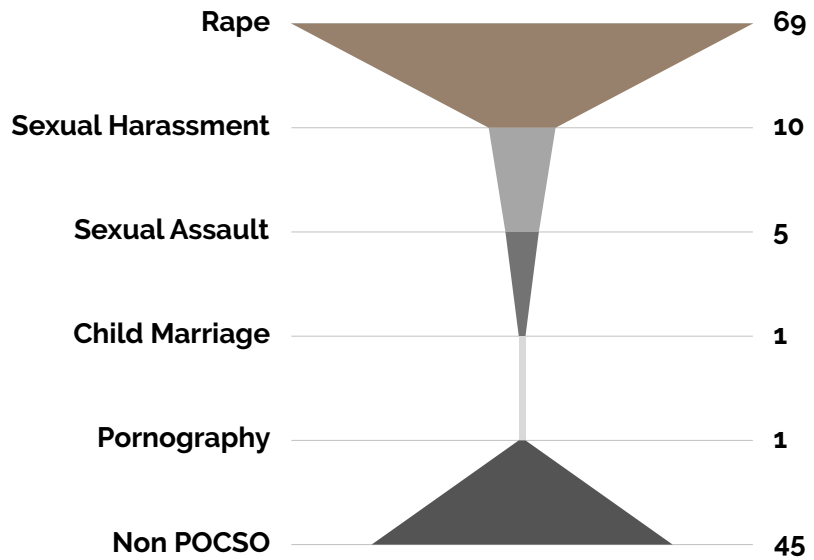

14-year-old Sameer* had just completed his 8th standard and was living with his loving family, consisting of his father, mother, and elder brother. He was at a stage in life where he was curious about many things, like other teenagers. One day, while browsing on his mobile phone, Sameer stumbled upon a pornographic video. Unfortunately, his neighbour aunt caught him watching it. In a moment of panic and embarrassment, Sameer pleaded her not to inform his family about the incident. The neighbor, however, took advantage of Sameer's vulnerability and started blackmailing him. She demanded that if Sameer wanted her to keep his secret, he would have to kill her mother-in-law. Trapped and frightened, Sameer, under the immense pressure of the situation, ended up taking another person's life by throwing a stone at her head. The consequences were grave, and Sameer was subsequently sent to an observation home for the crime of murder. Sameer was overwhelmed with guilt, stress, and anxiety about his actions. He desperately needed guidance and help to make sense of the situation and find a way towards rehabilitation. The FFCP counsellor initiated the counselling sessions with rapport-building activities, creating a safe and comfortable environment for him to speak freely.

The counsellor used reflective techniques for Sameer to understand and manage his thoughts, behaviours, and actions. He was encouraged to participate during sports, Djembe, dance, and yoga sessions at OH. These activities not only helped him relieve his anxiety but also contributed to his personal growth and development. He slowly found relief from his overwhelming stress and anxiety.

GLIMPSES OF ACTIVITIES DURING CHILD SAFETY WEEK FY 2023-24

CELEBRATION OF CHILD SAFETY WEEK 2023-24

We believe that children's voices deserve to be heard, their rights be protected and their issues be given top priority. Our team celebrated Child Safety Week-2023-24, featuring a week-long program with various activities such as a Radio Show on CSA at FTII, Child Safety Walkathon, Flash Mob, Rap Song, Street Play, and a Selfie Booth in different parts of Pune.

On this occasion, our team also collaborated with employees of Bitwise for a community wall painting activity. This activity aimed to use the community walls as a canvas to spread the message of safety and protection through these child safety volunteers.

Our community team led a children's rally to the police station to submit a map of the unsafe spaces in the community and requested the police to increase patrolling in the area.

All our efforts were centered around advocating on the issue of CSA with diverse groups to have zero tolerance towards CSA.

Minor sisters' uncle, friend turn monsters, abuse them multiple times; neighbours alert police

Archana More archana@punemirror.com

TWEET @Archana_Mirror

Children don't seem to be safe anymore in the cultural capital of the state. Not even at their homes as in most sexual abuse cases involving minors, relatives turn out to be the aggressors. In one such recent incident, two minor sisters were raped multiple times by their uncle and his friend in the Bhamburda area of the city.

The incident came to light on Sunday, when one of the victims narrated the ordeal to her neighbour, who then alerted the police. The Khadak police has registered an FIR under section 376, 376(2)(F)(iii) of the Indian Penal Code (IPC), as well as the relevant sections of Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act (POCSO). The victims, aged 10 and 14, were residing with their uncle, as their parents stayed in Delhi. The accused duo would allegedly give them sedatives and sexually assault them. However, out of fear, the victims did not reveal it to anyone. Finally, the 14-year-old victim showed courage and disclosed the incident to a woman residing near her house. The woman advised her not to eat the food given by the accused. She then informed all the neighbours, and they informed the police.

Senior police inspector Sangrta Vaidya and her team reached the spot and arrested the accused. "Both the victims were sent for medical examination, and the accused are in police custody till January 25. The accused came to Pune 15 days ago, and he and his friend would sexually assault the victims. The neighbour is the complainant in the case. We have also recorded statements of other people who helped police to nab the accused, they are the important witnesses to the case," said the officer.

Alarming situation

However, this is not the only case in the recent past. Last week, two such cases were reported at Dehuroad and Kondhwa. An 11-year-old girl was sexually molested by a 70-year-old man in Dehuroad on the pretext of giving her fruits. In Kondhwa, an 11-year-old Class IV student was allegedly sexually harassed by her grandfather. The latter incident came to light during a 'good touch, bad touch' session in school when the girl narrated her ordeal to the teacher. The victim further disclosed that her grandfather forced her to watch porn videos and threatened her to not inform anybody. The school teacher approached the Kondhwa police and lodged an FIR against her grandfather.

City reported over 750 such cases in the past three years. In 2022, Pune police lodged over 260 cases of child sexual abuse. National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB) shows that 1,49,404 cases of crime against children were registered in 2021 of which 53,874 — 36.05 per cent — were under the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act (POCSO).

AWARENESS IS MUST

In light of the increasing incidents of child sexual abuse by relatives, Marwar spoke to several social activists, NGOs, and legal experts. They feel the need for maximum awareness regarding good and bad touch and its compulsory inclusion in the educational syllabus to prevent the increasing incidents of child sexual abuse.

The city has witnessed a rise in child sexual abuse cases in the past five years. Speaking to Pune Mirror, Sharmila Raj, director of Muskaan, said, "Although the schools and parents are teaching good and bad touch to their children, more awareness is required. Police and lawyers are there to take care of other things, but to prevent the incidents, each and every child should be aware so that he or she would learn how to keep themselves safe. It is of utmost importance to teach them to raise the alarm in case they feel unsafe so that people will also think before abusing children."

"Besides awareness, the lesson of safe and unsafe touch should be made compulsory in the school syllabus. Awareness sessions in schools, homes and public places are necessary," she added. Advocate Yashpal Parthi, a practicing lawyer on the panel of Pune District Legal Aid Service Authority (DLASA), said, "It has been observed that many people do not even come forward to file complaints. People should speak to their children regularly and notice changes in their behaviour. They should also keep a watch on the use of mobile phones."

Shocking trend

Pune city police reported 1,678 cases in the past six years. While Muskaan, the city-based NGO which has been working on the issue of child sexual abuse since the year 2000, has reported 600 cases in the last six years. They informed Mirror that they handle around 150 cases in a year.

Puppets teach kids safe touch

NGO FCP-Muskaan takes innovative steps to increase awareness among children, parents, caretakers to prevent abuse

A major factor in prevention of sexual abuse of children is their awareness about what good touch is and what bad touch is. The Foundation for Child Protection (FCP)-Muskaan, a city-based organisation working for child protection, has started an innovative way to creating this awareness among children with the help of puppets.

Children can easily relate to stories told through puppets. Speaking to Pune Times Mirror Sharmila Raj, co-founder and director FCP-Muskaan, said, "We use puppets to talk to children about safe touch and unsafe touch. Young children have a short attention span and their verbal skills are not fully developed. So they do not easily absorb complex information communicated to them purely verbally. Visual stimulation with puppets keeps them engaged for a longer duration and they absorb and retain information communicated to them visually much better. Puppets thus become a highly effective tool to work with young children."

FCP-Muskaan is working to prevent child sexual abuse (CSA) and help survivors since the year 2000. It is the only NGO in Pune with full focus on the critical issue of CSA, addressing it with a multidisciplinary approach. FCP-Muskaan claims it deals with all cases with the aim of focusing not only on children, but on all

Puppets are a highly effective tool to work with young children

The NGO is eyeing not only schools, but also social gatherings and public events where they can raise and explore the topic of making children get the necessary knowledge.

FCP-Muskaan director Shubhada Ranavite told Pune Times Mirror, "One major area of our work is prevention of sexual abuse. This is done through awareness sessions designed for various ages and groups. These sessions are aimed at educating children about safe and unsafe touch, and what they can do to prevent it. Sessions are carried out in schools, communities, and at large events for children. They may be in the form of lectures, puppet shows, or street plays. The main intention is to create awareness about the issue to a varied and large audience as we can. We believe that awareness is the first step towards prevention."

Raj added, "Our aim is to reach all children including their parents, guardians and caretakers. We reach out to the masses. Platforms and events help us to reach all of them. We have

SPECIAL PROVISIONS FOR VICTIMS

The POCSO Act takes appropriate care of the child victims. In such cases, the victims will be able to safely testify in the presence of an assistant. There will be special witness rooms, with separate access for victims and accused. Such a POCSO court building will be completed in the next 18 months in Shivajinagar, Pune.

Child abuse cases on the rise

Every day, an alarming number of cases of child abuse and assault are reported to the police across the country. As per the latest National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB) data, a large number of cases of aggravated penetrative sexual assaults covered by the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act are taking place. In these cases, among the victims 38,030 were girls while 414 boys. According to the NCRB report, Uttar Pradesh recorded the highest number of incidents at 8,151, followed by Maharashtra at 7,572, Madhya Pradesh 5,996, Tamil Nadu 4,968, and Rajasthan 3,371. Conversely, the lowest number of POCSO incidents took place in Goa with only 4 cases, Himachal Pradesh 9, Nagaland 26, Arunachal Pradesh 47, and Manipur 55. Delhi witnessed 1,512 incidents under the POCSO Act. Among union territories Jammu & Kashmir had 16 cases, Puducherry 105, Andaman & Nicobar Islands 109, and Dadra & Nagar Haveli and Diu 55.

Empowering staff with POCSO awareness session

Muskaan conducts enlightening sessions at Kothari International School, focusing on child abuse and the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act.

Pune, India - Kothari International School in Kharadi, Pune, hosted a crucial awareness session on the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) in collaboration with the Foundation for Child Protection - Muskaan. The session aimed to educate the entire school staff about various aspects of child abuse, particularly focusing on child sexual abuse.

The enlightening session saw two parallel sessions tailored for different school departments. One session engaged the Principal, teaching staff, and counselors, facilitated by Ms. Kirti, the Training Coordinator of Foundation for Child Protection - Muskaan. Concurrently, another session catered to the admin department, non-teaching staff, housekeeping staff, bus drivers, and bus lady helpers, led by Ms. Manisha, the Senior Trainer of Foundation for Child Protection - Muskaan.

During the POCSO session, the entire school staff gained insights into critical issues related to child abuse, with a specific focus on child sexual abuse. Causes contributing to child sexual abuse were discussed, along with guidelines on identification, reporting, and legal aspects of POCSO cases. The session shed light on crucial information such as child-friendly police stations and specialized fast-track courts supporting POCSO cases.
